

Collaborative Pairs Australia

A Consumers Health Forum Partnership

Consumers and Clinicians, Working Together

Would you like to be one of the first in Australia to take on a unique leadership opportunity and help transform the health system?

Collaborative Pairs Australia brings health service providers and consumers together as a 'pair' to:

- complete a free leadership development program (valued at $5000 each)
- work on a health challenge together.

South Eastern Melbourne Primary Health Network (SEMPHN) is looking for 6-7 pairs for our second program starting in February 2019.

Visit our website (<http://www.semphn.org.au/events-and-education/collaborative-pairs.html>) for more information or contact Kym Westbury ph: (03) 8514 4478 or kym.westbury@semphn.org.au.

Apply now! Applications for the second program close 30 November 2018.

Collaborative Pairs Australia is a partnership between Consumers Health Forum of Australia (CHF) and the King's Fund, an independent charity in the UK.

Would you like to:

- Support the health and wellbeing of your local communities?
- Be involved in change that really transforms?
- Make time for learning – and sharing it?
- Put collaborative practice really into place, in your organisation or community?
